“The People of Clarendon County”—
A Play by Ossie Davis,
& the Answer to Racism!

Based on the book edited by Journalist & Aesthetic Realism Associate Alice Bernstein

Hear Alice Bernstein tell of “unearthing” Ossie Davis’s 1955 Civil Rights play, and why he wanted it presented in relation to Aesthetic Realism, the philosophy founded by Eli Siegel, which explains the cause and answer to racism!

with Allan Michael, Onilaja Waters, & Dr. Arnold Perey

See a performance of “The People of Clarendon County,” about black parents in South Carolina who risked death to challenge “unequal” education, paving the way to the historic 1954 Brown v. Board ruling, outlawing segregation in public schools.

Benedict College Theatre Ensemble

Directed by Charles David Brooks III, Chair, Fine Arts Department

♪ Musical Accompaniment by Allen University Choir Directed by Professor Peter Felder ♪

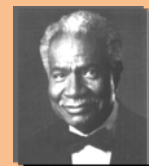

Experience the Aesthetic Realism Teaching Method as educator Monique Michael (born in Haiti) gives an interactive first grade lesson on diversity. See why this method brings out every child’s true intelligence and ends prejudice in the classroom!

Meet unsung heroes from our own community!
